NORTHCILLIFFE GIVES HIGH PRAISE TO HARDING

Noted British Publisher
Lauds President's Disarmament Proposal

URGES WORLD PEACE

Speaker Tells Canadians
American Plan Points
Way To Prosperity

United Press Leased Wire
VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 5.—“Bad old days of competitive armaments” would follow any failure of the Washington disarmament conference, Lord Northcliffe, famous British publisher told a luncheon of the Canadian club here today.

It was his first and only speech in Canada.

“Its failure would be a catastrophe,” Northcliffe declared in launching into a strong support of the disarmament conference plans.

Betraying No Secrets
“I am betraying no secrets when I say that I believe that these two eminent men have a very clear understanding of the momentous character of the gathering at Washington,” Northcliffe said, referring to President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes.

“The conference,” he added, “may well prove to be the greatest and most pregnant gathering of the kind that has ever been held.”

“I can conceive of no work fraught with greater possibilities of weal or woe to civilized humanity at large,” he said, “in England we are disarming. The British army is reduced to a figure below its peace strength before the war, while the navy is weaker both as regards big ships and personnel than it was in 1914.”

“The statements made in the house of commons on Wednesday as to the repatriation of four obsolete cruisers by new vessels of the post-Jutland type do not especially alter this fact. These new ships, which are necessary, cannot be completed in less than five years.”

People Disheartened
“There is a reaction from the high idealism that animated the allied and associated during the war. People are feeling a little disheartened. They are wondering whether human affairs will ever be settled by anything except force and whether good will, reason and common sense will ever regulate the intercourse of nations. At such a moment comes President Harding's call to a conference on disarmament with special reference to the Pacific.”

“If the delegates to the Washington conference truly and constantly represent the desire of their respective nations, I am convinced that an agreement will be reached and an era of peace and prosperity will be opened to the Pacific. Contentment will extend from the Pacific to Europe and throughout the world.”

HUGHES AWAITS FINAL REPLY ON PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The formal call for the Washington disarmament and arms conference will be issued as soon as replies have been received from all the powers to the American proposal that the conference open on November 11, it was announced authoritatively today, providing that none of the replies raises any objection to that date.

NOTHING BUT PAJAMAS

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—William Foster stood before the police desk in striped pajamas. “Three men attacked me in an alley and took all my money,” he wailed. “Then another came along and helped me home. When he got there he took my only suit of clothes.”

ZION CITY HAS BAPTISM OF FIRE WHEN ANTI-VOLVAITES BURN WARNING SIGNS

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ZION CITY, Ill., Aug. 5.—Peaceful Zion had its baptism of fire today.

Reprisals in the Zion City holy war started when the torch was applied to six signs of warning erected by Wilbur Glenn Voliva, monarch of the church and the city of Zion.

The signs, the most conspicuous scenery in the holy city, were burned to the ground. The blaze started in six isolated spots simultaneously at 4 o'clock. The huge bell in the tabernacle which usually calls the adherents of Voliva to church called them to fight the flames. It was only after two hours of battling that buildings were saved.

Underneath the surface of tranquility, war has been brewing between Zionites and the independent, who refuse to accept Voliva as their prophet and ruler.

FOUR TOTS MEET DEATH AS BLAZE RAZES TENEMENT

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Four children of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Corrine were burned to death today when fire swept a tenement house in the Bronx. Two other persons were fatally burned and five sustained lesser injuries.

The dead children were asleep, unaware of the fire, when the roof caved in, letting a mass of blazing timbers fall upon them.

Corrine and his wife, with two other children, made their escape, down a fire escape.

When the firemen arrived tenants were leaning out of almost every window, screaming for help. A big crowd watched the spectacular rescues.

HOUSE LOOKS TO ‘CUSSING’ BUDGET CHIEF FOR TAX CUT

BY HERBERT W. WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The hopes of the house ways and means committee that taxes can be reduced this year now are pinned on “Hell and Mariah” Dawes, director of the budget.

Determined to cut this year's governmental expenditures $1,000,000,000 below the $4,550,000,000 estimate of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the committee will probably ask Dawes to seek a way by which this saving can be affected.

The secret hope is that Dawes will let fly some of his choicest “cuss words” at those responsible for government extravagance and then use the “axe” in cutting off their appropriations.

Dawes probably will appear before the committee within the next few days.

Republican leaders of the house, as the result of the dark picture of the government financial situation given the committee yesterday by Secretary Mellon, realize it will be most difficult to make good their promise of reducing taxes by $500,000,000.

Upon Mellon's estimates of expenditures, taxes must be increased $266,000,000.

BANDIT LOOT IN TWO BOLD DAYLIGHT JOBS TOTALS OVER $65,000

HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 5.—Six bandits today held up several guards and the paymaster of the Barrett Manufacturing company and escaped with a sum estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000 in currency.

The robbery occurred near the company's plant at Shady-side, near the Hudson river.

The bandits, concealed in the bushes, stopped the paymaster's car by tossing stones into the road. With drawn revolvers they then jumped into the road, covering the guards, who were not given time to lift their guns.

The paymaster's money bag was seized. One bandit cut the wiring in the car, which was rolled into the bushes. The guards were disarmed and the bandits disappeared in the bushes, where one of their number had remained in an automobile with its motor running.

DARING PAIR ROB MAIL TRAIN OF $15,000
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 5.—Two bandits flagged Baltimore and Ohio train number fifty-six, two miles south of Altamont, Ill., today and robbed the mail car of two registered mail pouches and $15,000 in currency, according to word reaching here.

WOMAN ACCUSES SALESMAN AS LOVE PIRATE

Charged with bigamy in a complaint sworn to by his second wife, Jesse Cunningham, 26, of Los Angeles, was scheduled to be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Cox this afternoon.

Cunningham was arrested in Los Angeles 45 minutes after the complaint and warrant had been issued here. He spent the night in the Los Angeles jail. Undersheriff E. E. French left for the metropolis at noon today and will return with the prisoner.

Violent Traubert is the complainant. She appeared in the justice court yesterday and sobbingly told her story to Judge Cox and Undersheriff French.

Married By Cox
“I married Cunningham here in this courtroom December 4,” said the woman. “Judge Cox performed the ceremony. I had no idea at that time that he already had a wife. We have been living with my mother in Los Angeles. Jesse paid her only $10 a week for our board and lodging.”

“He was working as a salesman for the Overell Furniture company and making good money. Still, we never had money enough to get along.”

“I went through my husband's pockets one night and to my surprise I found a summons and complaint filed against him by a woman claiming to be his first wife.”

Sued For Divorce
“She had sued him for divorce. I went to see the woman, Hazel Cunningham. She said that she sued Cunningham on the ground of desertion and non-support of their child. And she told me that if she could get him back she intended to do so.”

Immediately after the warrant for Cunningham's arrest was issued Undersheriff French telephoned the Los Angeles sheriff's office.

He informed the authorities that Cunningham could be located at the Overell Furniture store and in less than an hour Cunningham was in jail.

JAPANESE TESTIFY IN DEPORTATION HEARING

MODESTO, Cal., Aug. 5.—Six defendants in the Turlock Japanese deportation case were given their preliminary hearing today before Justice Rice.

Japanese witnesses asked protection from the court, asserting that they had been threatened by Turlock men attending the trial. An officer was stationed outside the court room to prevent disorder.

The hearing probably will not be completed until tomorrow.

HOOVER INSISTS SOVIET CHIEFS SUPPORT U. S. RELIEF PLAN

No Food For Reds Until Leaders Negotiate With Americans, Edict

BY A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The state department today instructed the American commissioner at Riga to make preparations for receiving the Americans who have been imprisoned in Soviet Russia and who are now reported released.

Herbert Hoover, head of the American relief administration, will insist on negotiations with the Russia Soviet government itself before extending American food and other relief to the famine-stricken country, it was learned today.

Safety for Workers
Hoover takes this position because he believes the Soviet government is the only agency which can guarantee safety and freedom for American relief workers in Russia.

This forebushes the first real hitch in the extension of relief to Russia, as officials here fear that representatives of relief committees in Russia will come out to Riga to negotiate with Walter Lyman Brown, director of the relief administration.

Dispatches from Riga also stated that Russia intended to negotiate with Brown through a relief committee.

Fear Soviet Plot
Officials here fear that if an agreement is reported only with a relief committee of Russia, the Bolshevik government, remaining in the background will recognize and carry out such an agreement only as it sees fit.

No definite advice has been received that the prisoners have left Moscow, but representatives of the commission at Riga and the American Red Cross have started for the frontier.

Supplies of food, clothing and medicines have been taken to the border.

FAMINE SUFFERERS RUSH TO RELIEF CENTER

RIGA, Aug. 5.—Riga today anxious watched the race between Russian refugees and American relief workers.

Delay in the relief work, it was feared here, will cause Riga and all Latvia to be smothered under the tidal wave of humanity now pouring across Russia from the famine districts.

Visions of their houses stripped of valuables, their food stocks consumed and themselves left without food or clothing filled the minds of everyone here.

The arrival here of Maxim Gorky and Leon Khamanoff to meet Gorky relief workers early next week brought home hope to natives. They declared that if the Americans are able to bring in food before the refugees come tumbling into Latvia, the situation may right itself.

LEAVES $10,000 TO CHILD WHO WAS KIDNED

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 5.—A legacy of $10,000 left by George Neel to 14-year-old Esther McGhee because she was kind to him has been awarded Miss McGhee by Judge Wood of Curry county, although heirs in Germany set up a claim to the property.

TEN INJURED AS AUTO TURNS TURTLE

DENVER, Aug. 5.—Ten persons were injured, none fatally, here when a sightseeing bus with a load of tourists, turned over when the driver swerved the car sharply to avoid hitting another automobile.

They were taken to the county hospital near by where their injuries were dressed.

DES MOINES PAPERS TO REDUCE PRICES

DES MOINES, Aug. 5.—The three Des Moines afternoon newspapers, the Tribune, the Capital and the News have announced that effective Monday the price will be reduced from 3 to 2 cents for street editions. Even greater cuts have been announced for newspapers delivered by carrier.

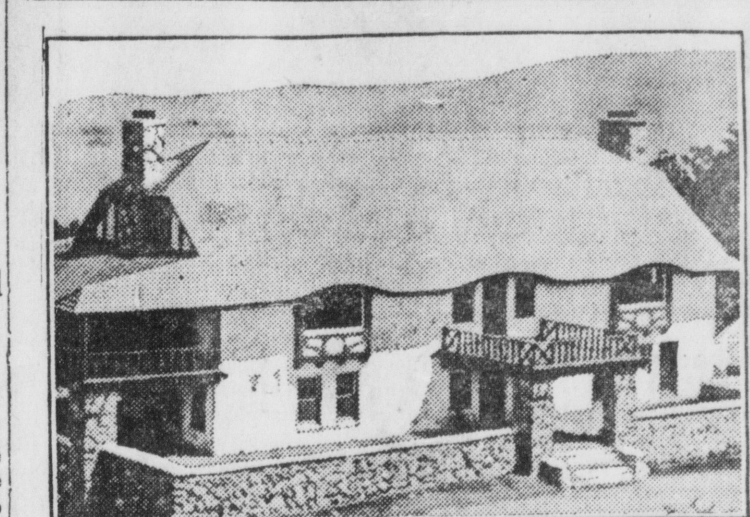

Lafayette Young, owner of the Capital, also announced that effective September 1, his paper will be placed on sale at 1 cent for street editions.

FORD MAY SELL HIS PAPER IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent, the paper that has been barred from news stands in various cities, presumably because of its articles attacking the Jews, has gained a respite in Chicago.

Judge Homer, acting on a petition of Perley W. Johnson, distributor of the Independent for Chicago and vicinity, today granted a temporary injunction restraining Chief of Police Fitzmorris from interfering with the sales of the paper.

WILSON'S POLICY IN HAITI SCORED AS SENATE PROBES ALLEGED MARINE OUTRAGES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The policy of former President Wilson in sending marines to Haiti was attacked today before a senate sub-committee which began an investigation of American occupation of Haiti and San Domingo.

Steno Vincent, former Haitian minister of justice and president of the Haitian government when it was dissolved by American forces, read a statement in which he alleged that the Wilson administration's claim that intervention in Haiti was to protect lives of Americans and foreigners was unfounded.

Not an American nor foreigner of other nationality had been killed in the revolutionary outbreaks. No burnings or other property destruction had occurred, Vincent testified. American intervention violated not only treaties, but Wilson's doctrine of equality for all American republics, he said.

Captain Ernest Angel, representing the Haiti-San Domingo Independence society, demanded withdrawal of American forces.

BEACH BANK IS IN HANDS OF L. A. MEN

By a sale consummated yesterday M. N. Avery, president, and W. E. McVay, vice-president, of the Guaranty Trust and Savings bank of Los Angeles today own a controlling interest in the First National bank of Huntington Beach.

These men have purchased the stock owned by L. A. Copeland, president; R. Courges, vice-president, and C. E. Lavering, cashier, who have been officers of the bank for the past four years.

At a meeting of the directors of the bank yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Copeland, Courges and Lavering resigned as officers and directors. Their places on the directorate were taken by Avery, McVay and G. H. Carlson. Avery was then elected president of the bank. McVay vice-president and Carlson cashier. Carlson is to be the active man in charge of the bank.

To Remain at Beach
Copeland and Lavering, who have been the active officers of the bank, will continue their residences at Huntington Beach and will devote their time to their personal business both men having acquired extensive oil interests in the new beach field.

The bank was organized in 1905 with a capital stock of $25,000. Soon after Copeland and Lavering took over the management four years ago last April, the capitalization was raised to $50,000, and a few months ago it was raised to $75,000, which it now is.

The assets of the bank four years ago were $230,000; they are now more than $1,000,000.

Policy to Remain Same
The new management announces that the business of the bank will be conducted along the same lines as hitherto, with practically the same personnel in the bank, with the exception of the withdrawal of Copeland and Lavering, and with the old directors, excepting the three who resigned yesterday, remaining. The old directors remaining are T. B. Talbert, J. G. Parsons, F. H. McElfresh, D. O. Stewart, R. L. Obar and H. Larter.

While not officially given out, it is reported at Huntington Beach that the price paid per share by the Los Angeles men was $200.

It is conjectured, too, that the purchase of stock by Avery and McVay was made for the Guaranty Trust and Savings bank of Los Angeles.

Recently a branch bank was placed in Huntington Beach by the Los Angeles Trust and Savings bank.

TAKE BOOZE SUPPLY OF FLEEING BANKER

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Prohibition agents today raided private vaults in the Michigan Avenue Trust company and seized $10,000 worth of liquor, said to have been the property of Warren C. Spurgin, fugitive president of the bank.

Federal agents declared Spurgin was the only person who had access to the vault in which the liquor was stored.

Spurgin, federal authorities declared, was connected with a bootlegging ring and used the vaults in the bank for storage purposes.

“Go and get it,” he said.

PRIEST HELD FOR RANSOM AS MURDER THREAT IS HURLED

Father Heslin Prisoner In “Bootlegging Cellar” of Enemy, Note States

BISHOP GETS WARNING

Irate Poses Comb Hills In Search of Kidnapers of Missing Priest

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—

That Father Heslin, missing Colma priest, is being held by a personal enemy in a “bootlegging cellar,” in Colma, and will be killed if $6500 ransom is not forthcoming, or if any attempt to rescue him is made, was the threat in the blackhand note received by Arch-Bishop Hanna, the police revealed today.

The text of the note was published today. It stated that any attempt on the part of the authorities to break into the cellar would result in a can of gasoline being upset where it would come in contact with a lighted candle, cremating the victim. Father Heslin is chained in the cellar, the note stated.

Archbishop Hanna was directed to be ready to send one man alone in an automobile until he found a white line, and then to follow a white string until he was instructed to hand over the $6500.

The note stated that Archbishop Hanna would be informed by tonight by telephone when to start. Archbishop Hanna turned the note over to the police.

They put little credence in the note, believing that it is the work of a crank or swindler.

Two “John Doe” warrants were issued in Colma today for the arrest of the abductors. The detectives working on the case intimated that the arrest of the leaders of a gang in Colma, thought to be implicated in the kidnaping, is near.

Airmen, bloodhounds, deputy sheriffs, mounted police, parties from the Knights of Columbus supreme convention—every conceivable method of search—thus far have been baffled.

Since Tuesday night when a muffled stranger, short of stature, overcoat collar half hiding his face, called of the note away in an unlighted automobile to “minister to a dying friend,” not a word of Father Heslin has been heard.

The missing priest, according to his associates was known never to have absented himself from his parish. He was always faithful to his trust.

Father Heslin was in charge of a church at Turlock when the Japanese were deported there. Some whispered “yellow peril” as an explanation. But all authorities scout the theory.

Reports were circulated that Father Heslin on Tuesday night was called to hear the confession of a murderer and then was removed by men who feared incrimination, despite the sacredness of the confidence.

Police of San Francisco placed their faith in the note demanding ransom. But San Mateo county authorities refused to credit it. They thought the note the work of a fanatic who really knew nothing of the case.

BUY CARUSO RECORDS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—Sale of phonograph records of songs by the late Enrico Caruso has jumped over 100 per cent, according to figures gleaned from different music companies in Los Angeles today. Every body with a phonograph, it seems, wants to have at least one record of “the voice which will never be duplicated.”

ONE MAN DROWNED, ANOTHER NEAR DEATH AS SWIMMING HOLE JOKE ENDS IN TRAGEDY

United Press Leased Wire
SANTA ROSA, Calif., Aug. 5.—Frank Kirsch played a joke on another youth, George Lieby Jr., his best friend, and as a result Lieby is dead and Kirsch is in the hospital today in a serious condition from shock and exhaustion.

The two had been in the Laguna river for a swim, and were scuffling on the bank as they were dressing. As a joke Kirsch seized Lieby's hat and threw it in the water.

“Go and get it,” he said.

Lieby reached for the hat, stumbled and fell into the river. His body became enmeshed in the thick growth or river weeds, and he was held straggling under the surface.

Kirsch dove to rescue him, and for more than ten minutes battled to release him from the meshes of the weeds. Ranch hands finally came to his aid, but Lieby was dead when removed from the water. Kirsch collapsed from exhaustion and the shock.

FILES INITIAL SMALL CLAIMS COURT CASE

The first action brought in Orange county in small claims court, which courts were established by the legislature in its last session, was filed in the court of Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox this afternoon.

An affidavit upon the strength of which Albert Carls of Santa Ana will seek payment of $8.81 from Mrs. Mary Daly, 901 East Sixth street, Santa Ana, was filed.

At the same time it developed that Cox and Justices J. S. Howard of Anaheim and Leo Goepfer of Newport Beach, township regard the small claims court law unconstitutional. They base this belief on the ground that the law denies the defendant the right of trial by jury and denies either the plaintiff or defendant the right of attorneys. They point out that one of the bulwarks of the American government is the right trial by jury.

In connection with the claim filed by Carls, it was brought out that inadvertently he paid taxes amounting to $8.81 on property belonging to Mrs. Daly. It was not until Carls received his tax receipt that he learned he had paid Mrs. Daly's taxes and not his own, it was stated.

Carls said he made demands upon Mrs. Daly for $8.81, but that she refused to accede to the demands.

Justice Cox set the case for hearing August 13 at 8 a. m.

EXHUME BODIES AS DEATH PLOT FEARED

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—More bodies are to be exhumed in an attempt to solve the Schiller Park murder mystery, Coroner Hoffman said today.

This follows the finding of arsenic in the body of John Demmer who was buried eight years ago in Colby, Wis.

Previous to this disclosure, arsenic was found in the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kolze.

Mrs. Demmer, who with her husband, lived with the Kolzes and later became Kolze's housekeeper following the death of their respective mates, is being held by authorities for questioning.

Undertakers state they did not use arsenic in embalming the three bodies. Upon the plea of Elmer Kolze, son-in-law of Mrs. Demmer, the authorities have agreed to exhumate the bodies of two other members of the family, who were buried by the same undertaker, to determine if arsenic really was used in embalming.

BEAUTY CONFESSES TO SLAYING, WORD

United Press Leased Wire
PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 5.—"I shot Miltmore—I did it after attempting to make him sign a statement that he had committed the robbery. He wouldn't sign and in desperation I shot him."

This is the confession made by Miss Lena Clarke, pretty postmistress and poet, to Chief of Police Vestal at Orlando, according to word received here today.

W. M. Miltmore, Orlando restaurant man was found dead in a hotel room in that place shortly after $22,000 disappeared from a registered package a week ago. Police arrested Miss Clarke.

The young postmistress told police she had followed Miltmore from West Palm Beach to Orlando, had lured him to her room, drugged him and had then gone for police. She did this, she said, because she suspected the man of the postoffice robbery.

Later she told authorities she alone was responsible for the robbery, that she stole the money to cover shortages approximating $20,000.

CONFIRMS MILLER AS PROBATION OFFICER

Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today confirmed a recommendation of the juvenile court committee of Orange county and appointed R. R. Miller, secretary of the Orange County Y. M. C. A., county probation officer to succeed Paul Wright, who resigned about six weeks ago. Judge Williams also made an order accepting Wright's resignation.

Wright will remain in the position of probation officer until September 1, when he will go to Ontario to become pastor of the First Christian church of that city.

Miller is a native of Missouri, where his mother still lives, but he is in company with a brother now living in Los Angeles, came to California while still a very young lad and has since made this state his home. He received his education at Berkeley, where he became interested in Y. M. C. A. work. At the outbreak of the war he was sent to the Philippines, where he had charge of the Y. work in the islands for the period of the war.

During his connection with the Orange County Y. M. C. A. he has worked to further the interests of the organization and has been unusually successful in his work with boys.

His home is on a ranch near Orange, where, with his wife and two small children, he will continue to reside.

WOMEN HURT AS TRUCK HURTLES INTO DITCH

Miss Irma Downen, 1012 Riverine street, Santa Ana, was recovering today from bruises and abrasions of the head and body as a result of being spilled with a crew of eighteen orange packers from a truck on the Tustin road between Vista and Collins streets, near Orange, last evening.

Of the eighteen persons in the truck, the majority were women, and all employees of the Villa Park Citrus association.

Three other women beside Miss Downen were injured. They were: Mrs. E. Bradford, Orange, badly sprained left wrist, bruises and abrasions.

Mrs. George Gill, Orange, wrenched neck and wrist, bruises and abrasions.

Sister of Mrs. Bradford, name not learned, bruises and abrasions and general shock.

The accident occurred when George McAdoo, driving an automobile in the same direction as the truck, endeavored to pass. The hub of his car, according to reports, grazed the truck and tilted the top-heavy vehicle into the ditch. The truck landed on its side and spilled its occupants on the ground. All were slightly injured and did not report for work today, packing house men said.

No arrests were made.

Twenty-Two Years Of Service

Twenty-two years of continued service and still as good as new. That's the truth and we can tell you where to find the refrigerator. For an ordinary refrigerator this would be an unusual record, but for a HERRICK it's to be expected.

The Twenty-seven Points of Merit of the HERRICK Dry Air System Refrigerators show why the HERRICK justifies the title of the MASTER REFRIGERATOR. Let us show you.

Because, among other things, he was accused of having defrauded two Los Angeles physicians in a transaction involving Huntington Beach oil lands, interest was shown locally today in the announcement that "Count" Albert Schiefsky, self-styled Austrian nobleman, would be taken from Los Angeles tomorrow to the McNeil island federal penitentiary to serve three years. Upon completion of this term he will be sent to San Quentin to serve an indeterminate sentence resulting from his conviction of the oil land fraud charge.

Efforts by the California Bean Growers' association to include Orange county growers in their organization have apparently failed, according to W. C. Jerome, president of the San Joaquin Lima Bean Growers' association. During the past ten days S. D. Pine, representing the California Bean Growers' association, has been busily engaged in signing up growers in this part of the state and he hopes to establish an office of the association in Los Angeles which will have the same function as the office at San Francisco. According to Jerome, there is no possibility of the Orange county growers as a whole entering the organization this year.

The custom of years will be broken when the Nebraskans assemble at Bixby park, Long Beach, for their annual picnic tomorrow, Saturday.

cluding dancing of their own creation.

CHARGES MAN DROVE CAR WHILE DRUNK

W. E. Jones, of Bakersfield, who for the present is making his home at Balboa, today was at liberty on $100 cash bail following his arrest and arraignment before Justice of the Peace Cox on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.
The complaint against Jones was sworn to July 18, last, by Oscar Bruskey, who alleges that Jones drove his machine in a reckless manner.

A collision between Jones's machine and that of Bruskey resulted, the accident occurring on the Newport road at Costa Mesa.

Charged with robbing Officer W.
M. Hines of Huntington Beach of his Colts revolver, J. L. Cale, 20, a chauffeur of Montebello, Cal., today was under arrest and scheduled to be arraigned before Justice of the Peace C. W. Warner at Huntington
Beach this afternoon.

Cale was arrested by Officer
Hines late yesterday afternoon, when the officer found him in a barber shop at Huntington Beach.
Hines was walking out of a billiard room when he saw Cale adjusting his necktie in front of a mirror.
The officer brought Cale to the county jail here.

Accompanied by City Marshal
Jack Tinsley of Huntington Beach, Officer Hines arrived here again at noon today, secured a complaint and escorted Cale back to the beach city.

Drunk, Claim
Cale was leaning against a post at the corner of Ocean avenue and Fifth street, Huntington Beach, last Tuesday night when Hines attempted to arrest him on a charge of drunkenness.

Just as Hines approached Cale and ordered him to accompany him to the jail Cale whirled about and whipped out a revolver.

"You think you're smart, don't you, you ———. Stick 'em up and be quick about it!" he commanded.

Hines held his hands up while the bandit held the muzzle of the gun against his abdomen and relieved him of his gun.

The bandit then backed away and jumped into a Ford automobile in which another man was seated.
Both sped away in the darkness.

Hines turned the tables when he saw Cale in the barbershop.
"You think you're smart, don't you," he said to the highwayman.
"Get your coat on and come along with me."

According to City Marshal Tinsley, of Huntington Beach, Cale stole a revolver, cartridge belt and flashlight which Tinsley had loaned to Officer J. L. Stanton.

Stanton lives in the Palace roming house at the beach city. Cale is alleged to have broken into his room in his absence and secured the loot.

Following Cale's arrest last night
the stolen guns were recovered.

OIL SHARES UNDER ATTACK ON 'CHANGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The New York
Evening Sun's financial review today said:

The list presented a ragged appearance in today's moderately active stock market session. Prices were heavy from the beginning.

Pressure against the oil shares was considerable, particularly against Houston Oil, which was set back about four points. Mexican Petroleum, today's and Cosden were quite heavily sold also. The steels were fractionally lower while the motors just about held their own.

Prices continued to sag through the later afternoon period and some issues touched new low figures for some time.

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The entire stock list opened heavy here today.
The effects of yesterday's declines continued to be felt and the downward trend was more widespread.

A block of 3500 shares of United States Steel was taken over yesterday of 75, against the close yesterday of 75.
Studebaker got under 79 during early trading and Pierce Arrow at 14 1-8, was sold at 14 1-8. Mexican Petroleum, was unchanged on the first sale at 107 1-4 but sold off later to 106 1-2.

Northern Pacific led the decline in rails and made an early low of 77, off 1.
Other prices included:

Crucible Steel, 55, unchanged; Central Leather, 33 5-8, off 3-8; B. & O. 39, off 1-8; Bethlehem Steel, 51 1-2, off 2-8;
United Drug, 55 1-8, off 1-8; Baldwin, 77 1-2, off 1-8; Texas Company, 36, unchanged; New Haven, 17, unchanged;
Asphalt, 52 5-8, unchanged; Reading, 70,
unchanged; New York Central, 71 5-8,
off 3-8.

The market closed irregular.
The market was active right through the last hour. Steel Common sold down to 74 3-8, a reaction of nearly two points from the high of the week.
Chandler was forced down to 47 5-8 but recovered just before the close to 48.
Baldwin got down to 76 3-8 and then rallied about 1-2.

Closing prices included:
U. S. Steel, 72 1-2, off 1-2; Studebaker, 77 3-4, off 1-8; "B", 50,
off 1-8; Crucible, 55, unchanged;
Baldwin, 77 1-8, off 1-8; Kelly Springfield, 40 2-8, off 1-8; Northern Pacific, 75, off 1-8; Mexican Petroleum, 106, off 1-4;
Great Northern preferred, 73 1-4, off 2-8;
Southern Pacific, 76 1-8, off 1-8;
Reading, 69, off 1-8; American Woolen,
70 1-2, unchanged; Atlantic Gulf, 33 3-8, off 1-8; General Asphalt, 51 1-4, off 2-8;
Famous Players, 48 1-4, up 1-8;
American Sugar, 67 1-8, up 1-2; Utah,
47, off 1-4.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Big declines in grain prices marked trading in the Chicago grain market today. The slump was partly due to hedging by those who have overbought the market. The passage of a law in Minnesota designed to restrict speculation in grain made traders here a bit nervous. The heavy unemployment situation, both locally and over the country was a contributing factor. The brokers are wondering how big prices can be paid for bread when there are so many jobless. Provisions were lower.

September wheat opened off 1-4 at 121 1-4 and closed 5 cents lower. December wheat opened unchanged at 124
1-2 and closed off 2 1-2.

September corn opened at 58, off 1-8

INJUNCTION ISSUED IN PHONE POLE ROW

Superior Judge Williams today granted the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company a temporary restraining order which will prevent the city of Seal Beach from tearing up a certain pole line of the company within the boundaries of Seal Beach.

The temporary injunction holds good until Friday of next week, at which time Judge Williams will hear arguments in the matter and decide whether a permanent injunction shall be issued.

According to the complaint filed
by H. D. Pillsbury and Arthur Wright of Los Angeles, attorneys for the telephone company, the city trustees of Seal Beach, July 22, last, declared the pole line of the telephone company to be a public nuisance.

The complaint also alleges that the city trustees ordered the street superintendent to remove the line.
The telephone company asserts that if the line is removed and destroyed local and long distance telephone service in Huntington Beach would be interrupted.

When the case comes up for hearing the telephone company will ask a court judgment defining its right of way through the city of Seal
Beach and ask the court to quiet title to its property.

The telephone line was established in 1908. It runs through Anaheim
Landing, Sunset Beach, Seal Beach and Huntington Beach, paralleling
the Pacific Electric right of way.

The land originally belonged to John C. Ord. He secured title from the government in January, 1916, and later conveyed the spit of land to the Pacific Electric.

PAPERS IN MOSCOW DISREGARD FAMINE
MOSCOW, Aug. 5.—The astonishing feature of the Moscow newspapers of July 29 and 30, which have been received here, is that the sole news item from the famine area is the announcement that student and other bodies have given part of their rations and pay for the benefit of the sufferers.
To appreciate this, suppose the whole Middle West was dying of starvation, and that the New York press was carrying one such item. Indeed, similar announcements about subscriptions are the only reference to the famine at all, with the exception of an editorial by Radek in the Pravda, entitled "Not Bread, but a Stone," decrying the possibilities of outside help, and suggesting that any such work is a disguise for the preparation of a counter-revolution.
This does not promise well for the success of the Hoover negotiations—of which there is absolutely no mention in the Moscow papers.

C., Aug. 5.—It is now definitely announced that the Prince Rupert Pulp and Paper company will go ahead at once with construction of the first unit of its 200-ton a day sulphite mill, having an initial output of forty tons a day. BIRTH BAN PLEA MADE AS EARTH OVERCROWDED

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 5.—Four children should be the limit of the American family according to Dr. William E. Ritter.

"Four children are enough for any woman to raise, if she is going to raise them well," Dr. Ritter said.

"What the human race needs is more quality and less quantity in the production of children."

"If more American women will try to raise four children and less of them try to raise eight, both the children and the country will be better off."

BY ROBERT A. DONALDSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 5.—"The solution of the Japanese problem in the Pacific lies in limitation of Japan's population through birth control."

This was the declaration made today in an interview with the United Press by Dr. William E. Ritter, president of the Pacific Division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, now in session here.

Dr. Ritter is head of the University of California faculty at the Scripps Institution of Biological Research at La Jolla, Cal.

Dr. Ritter declared that an international congress of the leading scientists of the world, including those of China and Japan, should be called to meet in Washington at the same time as President Harding's conference.

Urges World Conference
The scientific conference, as outlined by Dr. Ritter, would discuss, among many other scientific subjects affecting world conditions, the limiting of population through international agreements.

Although the proposed birth control discussions would particularly deal with the present conditions in Japan and China, Dr. Ritter believes that all nations, and especially the United States, should consider the subject of limiting their populations, thus eliminating economic wars, and paving the way for disarmament.

"If something is not done along birth control lines, now that there are no more continents to discover and the era of indiscriminate territorial expansion of the human race is about over, all nations, and particularly the United States, will find themselves in a few decades in the same position as Japan and China are today," Dr. Ritter declared.

"If Japan's population is allowed to continue increasing at the present rate of 700,000 a year in a group of islands already heavily over-populated, there can be no solution other than Japanese territorial expansion at the expense of other nations, and that will eventually lead to another war," Dr. Ritter stated.

For Birth Control
"War is largely a result of economic pressure, but war is the most idiotic and uneconomic solution possible. Birth control and limitation of population will remove the necessity of wars by removing economic pressure brought on by excess populations. It is the first logical step toward disarmament."

The American Association for the Advancement of Science will probably take up with President Harding the possibility of holding such a conference, Dr. Ritter indicated. The proposal may possibly be made by Dr. George E. Hale, chairman of the international relations committee of the National Research Council, Dr. Ritter indicated.

L. A. POLICE SEEK BLACKMAIL SLAYER

United Press Leased Wire

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—A city-wide dragnet was thrown out today for "Dapper Don" Collins, wanted for the sensational Reid murder in New York.

"Dapper Don" is known to be in Los Angeles, police detectives assert. His presence became known upon complaint of a film actress, whose identity is kept secret, that he attempted to inveigle her into a blackmail plot something after the manner of the one that resulted in the death of John H. Reid, wealthy manufacturer, in the apartment of Mrs. Hazel D. Warner in New York three months ago.

The trail of "Dapper Don" is said by detectives to have led to Salt Lake, Denver, San Francisco, San Diego, Long Beach and back again to Los Angeles, where he is thought to be in hiding now.

WOULD SLASH RATES ON GRAIN SHIPMENTS

United Press Leased Wire

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Freight rates on grain and grain products for export from the Central Freight association territory to the Atlantic have been cut 7 1/2 cents per hundred pounds.

This agreement was reached following conferences between railroad and shippers agents.

The Central association includes points north of the Ohio river, east of the Mississippi, south of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line, east of Lake Michigan, south of the Great Lakes and west of Buffalo and Pittsburgh.

The interstate commerce commission will be asked to make the cut rates effective in ten days, but if this is not allowed, the tariff will go into effect in thirty days. The cut rates expire December 31.

MONROVIA MAN, 77, OLDEST TO ASCEND HIGH TOURIST PEAK

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 5.—E. P. Rankin, of Monrovia, Cal., is the oldest man ever to reach the summit of Mount Hood, Oregon's famous tourist peak, according to a report here.

Rankin is 77 and although following a pace set by his daughter and other young folks, according to Guide George Miller, showed less fatigue at the summit than any of his companions. In his youth, Rankin was a famous athlete, being captain of the Princeton University baseball team in 1864-65.

GOOFS' CLUB PLANS BIG COSTUME DANCE

Are you a Goof?
"If you aren't," says James R. Palmer, Hollywood cinematographer, "you should be."

And Palmer doesn't mean that one should be "queer" or "nutty" or anything like that. For he and others are making progress in the formation in Orange county of the Goofs' club, a purely social organization, formed, Palmer says, not to make money but to have a good time and get acquainted.

The Goofs expect to get under way next Tuesday night at the Marine cafe at Balboa with a big dinner and costume dance. There will be a $1 charge for the affair which is to cover expenses, according to Palmer. Present officers for Orange county are Ted Lester, big chief goof and Carl Burns, little chief goof. Lester is head entertainer at the Nuway at Balboa. Burns lives in Santa Ana.

As soon as 300 members join the Goofs the charter list will be closed. Organizations will then be formed in the various county cities. According to Palmer, there are no dues connected with the club and the membership fee is 25 cents.

Through the kindness of C. S. Kelley, manager of the Rowley Drug store, tickets for Tuesday night's affair have been placed on sale at that place.

MERCHANTS JOIN IN PLAN TO AID CARLESS CITY

United Press Leased Wire
DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 6.—Des Moines is not yet suffering from being without street cars.

This morning, thirty-six hours after the street cars were permanently called off the streets by a federal court order following foreclosure proceedings, people were getting to work on time and they seemed only slightly bothered by the crowding of the busses.

Business men, however, afraid that shoppers would not get to the downtown district and that out-of-town trade would be frightened away by the trolleyless city, late yesterday held an executive conference at which tentative plans for getting the car system under way were discussed.

John Budd, commissioner of public safety, has announced that he will back a plan in the city council today to give the busses an unrestricted one-year franchise and the bus line immediately followed with an offer to bring in thirty additional busses, making a total of 100. Until some permanence of tenure is given, the bus men said they will not spend any money here.

On routes where three street cars and three busses formerly plied, three busses now carry the loads. With the elimination of short hauls and the aid of "have a ride" motorists, however, everyone was riding although sometimes in discomfort.

One bus seating 16, carried a load of 53 workers on a six-thirty run this morning. No traffic accidents have yet been reported.

PROMOTER IS ACCUSED OF DEFRAUDING REDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Jacques R. Cibrario, promoter of several motion picture film concerns, was arraigned in Tombs court today and accused of defrauding Russian soviet government depositors here of $90,000. The case was adjourned until next week, when prosecutors said they wished to produce as a witness Dr. William Chapin Huntington, said to be about to depart for Paris to assume the position of commercial attaché to the American embassy there.

Nurses Terminate State Convention With Formal Banquet

The formal banquet Wednesday evening, at the Bellevue hotel, presided over by Miss Lillian L. White, brought to a close the three-day convention of the California State Nurses' associations at San Francisco.

Dr. W. E. Musgrave, secretary of the State Medical society, gave the after-dinner address and stated that "too many useless organizations in the medical and nursing professions are to blame for the high cost of the prevention and cure of disease."

As Cho Cho, the health clown, Miss Sophia Balch of Tehama county, and also an overseas veteran, provided all the thrills and merriment of a cabaret, and, incidentally, gave some tips on nutrition at the banquet. Tripping lightly about the dinner tables in her gay black and yellow costume, Cho Cho, with the elaborate dinner menu in her hand, told the nurses what they should and should not eat. Miss Edith S. Bryan, of Berkeley, assisted Miss Balch as the Health Fairy.

Officers were elected and San Jose chosen as the next convention city at the morning session, which was devoted to business.

Mrs. Ella B. Conzelmann, Red Cross public health nurse of Stockton, was elected president of the California State Nurses' association. Other new officers of the organization are: Mrs. Janette Peterson, Los Angeles, first vice president; Miss Mary Clary, San Francisco, second vice president; Mrs. Julia Taylor, Galt, secretary; Miss Clara Saunders, San Francisco, treasurer. The directors of the various districts are: Miss Florence Boddy, Alameda; Mrs. Frank Nevitt, Fresno; Mrs. Charles D. Lockwood, Los Angeles; Mrs. Martha A. Adams, Sacramento; Miss Edna Shirsper, San Francisco; Miss Mary L. Cole, San Francisco; Mrs. Florence Graham, Santa Barbara; Miss Anne Hawkins, Chico.

New officers of the Public Health Nursing organization are: Miss Mary Clary, San Francisco, president; Mrs. Margaret Sirch, Los Angeles, first vice president; Miss Agnes Talcott, second vice president; Miss Florence Boddy, treasurer; Miss Anastasia Miller, secretary.

The directors are: Miss Sidney Maguire, Los Angeles; Miss Isabelle Pirie, Fresno; Miss Josephine Breed, Los Angeles.

The various phases of nursing education were discussed at the afternoon session.

The value of academic training as a background for the professional training of a nurse was emphasized by Lucy Ward Stebbins, dean of women, University of California. In giving a vision of the nurse as a teacher of the future Miss Stebbins declared that no training was too thorough, too complete, for the nurse, and said that the hope that the country puts in the nurse demands that she shall have an education embracing history, science, philosophy and other branches of academic training.

The establishment of training schools separate from hospitals was suggested by Dr. R. G. Brodick, superintendent of the Alameda county hospital, as a remedy for the decreasing percentage of student nurses who finish their courses. The drudgery that goes with the training in the hospital, he said, was the reason for many student nurses dropping their courses. An educational training should replace much of the drudgery, he said.

Miss Ruth Heynemann, student secretary of the Y. W. C. A., spoke on the social life of the student and told of the activities. "Needs and Opportunities for Nurse Instructors" was the subject of an address by Miss Mabel Sprague, Pasadena.

A sightseeing tour has been arranged for the remainder of the week, after which Miss Rose Lieber, of the Y. W. C. A., spoke on the social life of the student and told of the activities. "Needs and Opportunities for Nurse Instructors" was the subject of an address by Miss Mabel Sprague, Pasadena.

It was such a lovely party, and a pink and white one at that, that little Miss Margaret Witman gave yesterday at her home, 706 Cypress avenue, to celebrate her twelfth birthday.

The happy little hostess received many lovely gifts from her guests, who enjoyed the afternoon playing all sorts of games, after which little Miss Margaret's mother called them into the dining-room and there, around the beautiful pink and white appointed table, they feasted.

Dainty pink and white baskets filled with candy marked the places of the following:

The Misses Mary Jane Owens, Juanita James, Mabel Miller, Dorothy Holmes, Beth Nunn, Geraldine Cole, Lorens Porter, Estelle Schlesinger, Helen Allender, Helen Bows, Ruth Allender, Louise Kelly, Virginia Colvin, Dorothy and Beatrice Boyd, "Ginger" and "Biddy" Witman and the hostess.

WOMAN'S CAR INJURES MAN AS MOVE TO BAR STRIKING HIM FAILS

Robert Davalos, 27, 159 North Cypress street, Orange, was being treated at the county hospital today for injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. H. J. Spennetta, also of Orange. The accident occurred near Villa Park.

Davalos, a member of a crew of orange pickers, was riding his bicycle to work along with a number of others, who were strung out over the road. Davalos is said to have turned toward the center of the road just as the automobile came up behind him.

Mrs. Spennetta drove her car into an orchard in attempting to avoid striking the bicycle rider. She took him to an Orange physician for first aid.

Davalos was injured about the head, left hand and right ankle.

Mr. McCloud, of Los Angeles, uncle of the groom, officiating.

The bride, who has just recently completed her training at the Orange county hospital, has lived in this city since childhood, where she has made a host of friends, who regret that her marriage will take her away from her home city.

The groom is a popular young business man of Whittier and served his country during the World War. After a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Calderwood will be at home at 408 East Pennsylvania street, Whittier.

SPECIAL COUNTY LEVY FOR PORT MAY BE ASKED

Today it appears likely that next Tuesday a delegation from the Orange county harbor commission and the Orange County Harbor association will ask the board of supervisors for a special levy for a harbor fund.

The board of supervisors has tentatively agreed upon the items of the county tax rate. There is no item for the harbor. In making up the budget for the general fund, nothing is figured in for extensive harbor purposes.

"There ought to be a 10-cent levy for harbor," said L. L. Shaw of Santa Ana, chairman of the harbor commission, today. "That would provide about $100,000 to be used for whatever desirable harbor improvement may arise."

Special dredging for some big industry may be necessary. The funds now being expended in harbor work by the commission is money raised by the bond issue. The management of the harbor, when that money is expended, passes from the present commission to the supervisors. There certainly should be a fund available for harbor needs.

COMPLETE PLAN FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE

Final plans were being arranged today for the summer's first community church service next Sunday evening at Birch park.

Morning services will be conducted as usual in the various churches of the city, but in the evening united services will be held beginning at 6 o'clock. This program will continue during the month of August, it is understood.

Ministers from outside churches will conduct the night meeting, it is said. The Rev. J. S. McGraw of Pittsburgh, Pa., field secretary of the Reformed Presbyterian church, will be the speaker Sunday.

Special music has been arranged by the committee in charge and plans are under way for an augmented choir to be selected from all of the city churches which will participate in the services.

ARRANGE PICNIC FOR VISITORS FROM IOWA

A number of Santa Anans who formerly resided in Osceola, Ia., were today completing plans for a gathering of the clans at one of the Riverside parks next Sunday.

The affair will be one of a series of like gatherings arranged in honor of Professor and Mrs. I. N. Beard of Osceola, who are visiting this section of the state.

Among the local Iowans who plan to attend are Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lewis and Mrs. Ella Lash.

The Santa Ana members were hosts at a picnic held at Birch park last Sunday in honor of the visitors at which there were forty-eight in attendance. The pleasant time enjoyed will be duplicated Sunday, and the plan is to continue the series until Professor and Mrs. Beard have visited all the principal cities of this part of the state.

"The recent campaign against wastefulness in eating did not affect me much as I haven't been able to eat anything but toast and tea for the past five years. I am glad I did not listen to an operation, as Mary's Wonderful Remedy has made a new woman of me." Anderson is seeking to collect $299.99 from Mr. and Mrs. Bert Minix. He claims that they are indebted to him in the sum of $315, but in order that the case may be tried in the justice court he remits all over $299.99. Cases involving sums in excess of $300 cannot be tried in the justice court.

PAROLE RUSSIAN IN STRANGE LOVE CASE

United Press Leased Wire
 LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—Capt. Michael Kustoff, former commander of the czar's infantry scouts, is free on parole today, following investigation into his sanity.

The captain was arrested upon complaint of Hulet C. Merritt, Pasadena millionaire, who charged him with threatening violence and with paying ardent court to Merritt's married daughter, Mrs. Rosalie Haupt.

Captain Kustoff was employed as a butler in the Haupt household. He informed the court naively that he thought Mrs. Haupt threatened divorce suit was over him, because she loved him more than her husband.

"She told me she loved me," asserted Captain Kustoff.

"The man is crazy," said Mrs. Haupt. "I hope no one here believes him."

"But I do not love her now," the captain volunteered, ungraciously.

The captain, while freely admitting his allegedly one-sided affair of the heart, with Mrs. Haupt, denied writing the threatening letter, "on my word as an officer."

The court found Captain Kustoff sane, and paroled him on his promise to curb his amour for Mrs. Haupt.

In August, 1946--

Twenty-five years from now. Try to picture yourself as you will be then. Don't paint the picture on what you hope or wish to be, but on what you are actually accomplishing NOW.

Is the picture a pleasing one?

It is to those of you who are aggressively backing up your ambition with action—who have faith in Santa Ana and in America—faith in yourselves and in the future.

BUT—the man who is "licked" today will be found twenty-five years from now still down, still grumbling about his chronic "bad luck."

You are building your future NOW. A bank book should be your corner stone.

DOES NOT KNOW SISTER HELD AS SLAYER

Confirming previous statements that the aged mother of Mrs. Mary Campbell, confined in the Orange county jail for the murder of her husband, Jess V. Campbell at Bala-bona on June 27, is unaware of the tragedy in which her daughter is the central figure, Mrs. D. M. Garvey of Burlingame, Cal., a sister of Mrs. Campbell, today stated that every effort was being made by the family to keep the mother in ignorance of the situation.

Mrs. Garvey left this morning for her home, but will rejoin her sister here as soon as possible. In the meantime, according to her statement, an effort is being made to locate their brother who is a traveling salesman and still unaware of the facts in the case.

Try to Find Brother
The family has been unable to locate him, but Mrs. Garvey stated today that they were trying to get in touch with him through the firm for which he travels, and also that she knew to a certainty that he would come to his sister's support immediately upon learning her need of him.

It was cruel to let the rumor get started that the family had turned against its poor sister, sobbed Mrs. Garvey. "We will stand by her through anything. If people only knew what a wonderful woman she really is and what a world of good she has accomplished in her quiet way, they would understand that nothing could alienate her people."

Not Mentally Responsible
"As for the crime itself, she was not mentally responsible at the time. She was ill and no one can know what she had undergone in the way of physical suffering."

MRS. ADALINE BROCK
SUMMONED BY DEATH

Mrs. Adaline M. Brock died last evening at 6 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Benedict, 701 South Main street, with whom she has been making her home for nearly eight years.

Mrs. Brock's death will be keenly felt by Santa Anas, especially those who knew her as past worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star, with which association she has been very active here in the past. She was also a member of the First Congregational church.

On account of the illness of Mrs. Benedict the funeral services have been indefinitely postponed. The body is at Smith & Tuttle's, and it is probable that it will be taken to her old home in Kansas for burial.

Adaline Countryman Brock was born October 6, 1840, in Onondaga county, New York. On May 1, 1856, she married in McHenry county, Illinois, James F. Brock, who has been dead for a number of years. Her father was Frederick Countryman.

She came to Santa Ana in 1914 from Centralia, Kan., to make her home with her daughter, at whose home she passed on.

Beside her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Benedict, she is survived by one son, Alex Brock, of Long Beach, and one brother, Robert J. Countryman, of Seneca, Kan.

CATTLE MARKETS IN EAST REACH STRONG POSITION, IS WORD

Eastern markets are continuing to advance and are now in the strongest position they have been in for several months, according to a statement received here today from the California Cattleman's association, San Francisco.

"California markets are holding steady to stronger," says the statement. "There is an especially good demand for lightweight steers, a considerable number of sales being reported at 6-14 cents and 6-1-2 cents. The average carcass weight reported thus far this year is 54 pounds lighter than last year."

"Information received from Southern Oregon and Nevada indicates that about one-half the usual number of cattle will be marketed in Southern Oregon this fall, and that there is a considerable shortage of cattle in Nevada."

"The bulk of beef cattle in Central and Southern California has been marketed. Very few, if any, commission cattle are going upon the market. Do not ship cattle on commission, and do not sell half fat cattle. We expect the market to continue steady to stronger during August."

FAST TRAINS LOSE RACE WITH DEATH

United Press Leased Wire
LONG BEACH, Aug. 5.—With special trains at their command and the co-operation of railroad officials of many systems, Walker C. Conner Jr., and his brother, Edward C. Conner, today lost in a race with death. Their father, Walker C. Conner, first mayor of Dallas, and prominent in railroad circles throughout the South, died last night at Hotel Virginia.

His illness assumed a serious character Tuesday and telegrams were sent to the sons, W. C. Conner Jr. is the New York representative of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad. He started from New York in a special train with right of way over trans-continental lines.

Edward Conner left Dallas, where he is an official of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad. Neither has yet reached this city. Colonel Conner was a close friend of Colonel E. M. House and was offered a diplomatic post by former President Wilson. He organized the Terminal company at Dallas and built the Union station. He was a director for thirty years of the Cotton Belt railroad. The body will be sent to Dallas tomorrow and will lie in state in the city hall there.

HUGE SUMS TIED UP IN COTTON, CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Efforts of the federal reserve board to finance the cotton and wool crops of 1920 were described today by W. P. G. Harding, board governor. Frequent attacks from cotton and wool producers had been made on the board previous to the charges of John Skelton Williams, former comptroller of the currency, which are being investigated before the commission.

"The cotton situation touched me personally," said Harding, who is an Alabamian, "and I would do anything to help."

Harding said that in September, 1920, seven reserve banks were re-discounting $100,000,000 of paper for three banks in the cotton sections. This amount increased to $267,000,000 in November, he said. The Boston and Cleveland reserve banks, he said, carried the greater part of the paper, but, he added, the New York bank contributed $135,000,000 in the general effort to aid the cotton farmers.

DOCTOR SAYS EVERY MAN HIS OWN STILL

United Press Leased Wire
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 5.—Hist! Hist! Don't tell Volstead.

Dr. C. J. Gaddis of Oakland, Cal., informed delegates to the annual convention of the Western Homeopathic association here last night that every humble citizen has a booze still all his own.

"The human body is a natural still, manufacturing alcohol for the use of the system," Dr. Gaddis whispered to the folk present.

"The exstonsitory amount kept in nature's bonded warehouse is about one ounce, hundred per cent alcohol manufactured from the food which is digested."

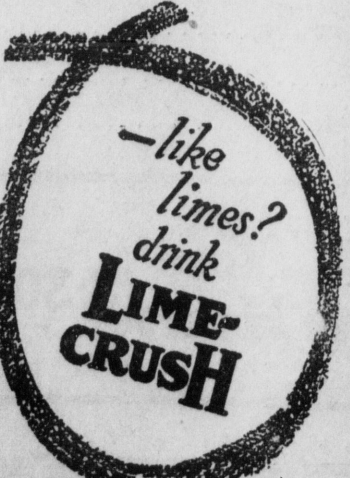

But the good doctor relieved the apprehensions of his hearers by asserting there is nothing in the constitution against such distillation.

In fact, he hinted, the better a person's constitution is, the better distiller that man is.

KILLED IN FUTILE EFFORT TO SAVE WIFE

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Bror Gustafson, aged 67, and his wife, Emma, 56 years old, are both dead here because the husband refused to stand at one side and see his helpmate of three decades struck down by a speeding automobile without making an effort to save her life. The Gustafsons were returning home after an evening at the movies, with Bror a few steps ahead of his wife as they were crossing a boulevard. A speeding car was bearing down on Mrs. Gustafson, when the husband leaped to her rescue. Both were struck down and died a few hours later in a nearby hospital.

DISTRICTS FACE BIG SHIFT FOR SCHOOLS TAX PURPOSES

Groups To Be Joined To S. A. High, If Recommendations Carried Out

TUSTIN MAY GET FOUR Mitchell To Ask Supervisors To Act On Provisions of New State Law

If recommendations to be made to the board of supervisors by County School Superintendent R. P. Mitchell next week prevail, Santa Ana high school district, for high school maintenance purposes, will soon include Delhi, Harper-Fairview, Greenville, Diamond, Paularino and Newport Beach school districts, and Tustin high school district will include San Joaquin, El Toro, Trabuco and Laguna school districts.

Under a measure that became effective July 30, every common school district in a county must become affiliated with some high school district.

In the northern part of the county, the union high school districts for some years have included a number of common school districts in addition to the one in which the high school buildings are located. Orange and Huntington Beach each has a union high school district.

Mitchell will recommend that Silverado and Peralta districts be added to the Orange union high school district, and that Laurel district be added to Anaheim union high school district.

The only common school districts not now belonging to some high school district are those outlined in the foregoing.

Special Tax Obviated. The common school district that is attached to a union high school district will no longer have to pay a special tax for the support of the pupils who reside in that district and go elsewhere to high school. It will become subject, however, to a special high school tax on the same basis with the remainder of the district.

Under the recommendations to be made by Mitchell, the Santa Ana high school district assessed valuation will total $14,572,790 this year, with the common school district valuations as follows: Santa Ana, $9,717,875; Delhi, $1,229,555; Harper-Fairview, $1,066,820; Greenville, $406,295; Diamond, $320,840; Newport Beach, $1,483,075; Paularino, $348,330.

The Tustin high school district will have a total assessment of $10,704,340, the common district valuations being as follows: Tustin, $4,580,925; San Joaquin, $4,676,900; El Toro, $500,270; Trabuco, $183,160; Laguna, $763,085.

The Huntington Beach union high school district and the recently organized Garden Grove union high school district will receive no additional territory.

Representation Question. The question of representation upon the controlling school board has come up for an opinion from the attorney general. The opinion was

Little Boy and Girl Call At City Hall Looking For Judge Cox

Two little tots, a boy and girl, dropped into the city hall today to see Judge Cox.

They were trying to get a drink from the fountain in the hallway of the city hall when City Marshal Sam Jernigan saw them.

Neither one could reach the mouthpiece of the drinking fountain. Jernigan lifted the little girl and then the boy and after each had a drink the boy said: "We came here to see Judge Cox."

"Where's that?" asked the youngster.

Jernigan told him where to find the courthouse and then suggested that they might see Judge Heathman.

"No," said the boy, "we want to see Judge Cox."

Both walked from the city hall, the boy leading the girl by the hand.

City Marshal Jernigan told the story to Judge Cox today and both had a hearty laugh.

The tots have not yet appeared in Judge Cox's court, but may show up later, as they were bent on seeing him.

PREPARE YACHTS FOR BIG DASH TOMORROW

County yacht enthusiasts were today on edge for the big run tomorrow that will carry a dozen craft of the Newport Harbor Yacht club to Santa Barbara in an effort to win prizes offered by the club there.

Final arrangements were being prepared today and the yachts that have entered the dash were receiving last minute examinations.

The boats are scheduled to leave Balboa pier at 9 o'clock sharp.

The race is being held under the auspices of the Southern California Yachting association.

Originally the plan was for boats from all the clubs in the state that enter the fray to gather at the Isthmus at Catalina and get under way together. Because of the difficulty in arranging handicaps and times for the sixty craft expected to enter, arrangements have been changed so that the ships entered from the various clubs will race separately in their respective classes, instead of against the large field.

Local interest centers in the duel in the schooner class between the Uncas, skippered by "Doc" Wilson and the Viking IV, Admiral Soland's flagship. These are the boats that started two weeks ago in the sailing race to Catalina and back. The race had to be called off because of lack of wind. Tomorrow's race will settle speculation that is rife among yachting bugs as to just which has the most speed and class.

The following boats will carry the insignia of the Newport Harbor fleet in the Santa Barbara dash:

Schooners: Admiral Soland's flagship, Viking IV, and John Bowers' Uncas, with Vice-Commodore William H. Burnham Jr. on board.

Yawls: Billiken, W. G. Lane, skip-

BOYS SWIMMING IN IRRIGATION DITCH WARNED

'Better Watch Out Or You Will Get Pinched' Says Company Chief

It is a hard, hard life for the boys of the land when the ban goes forth against swimming in irrigation canals, creeks and holes along the river.

Just now word is percolating along the banks of the S. A. V. I. company canals to the effect that "you'd better watch out or you'll get pinched."

Superintendent W. A. Ralph of the company has inserted the following ad in The Register:

"Any children caught in bathing in any of the S. A. V. I. company's canals will be subject to arrest and fine. W. A. Ralph, superintendent."

The Villa Park and El Modena water companies have had an especially hard problem on their hands this summer. A good many irrigators along the foothills have to depend upon their ditches for domestic water. They have a vital interest in keeping the Santiago creek clean and its water unpolluted, for the water they drink comes from the Santiago.

Presents Real Problem. Keeping boys, as well as some who are no longer so young as they used to be, out of the Santiago creek has been well nigh impossible.

A janitor has made frequent trips up an down the creek, and on nearly every trip he finds where a new swimmin' hole has been dammed off.

In order to protect their drinking water supply, the users may institute prosecutions. In order to give everybody ample warnings, however, the creek has been or will be posted. Posting, however, is not necessary in order to sustain prosecution.

The swimmin' hole problem was met by the Boy Scouts camp near the mouth of the Santiago canyon through making arrangements with the Farnsworth-Rutan ranch for the use of the reservoir. When the boys were instructed by the camp leaders that they must keep out of the creek they kept out. The leaders point with considerable pride to the obedience of the scouts in this matter.

Anybody knows that a swimmin' hole in a cool creek on a hot day is a temptation to a boy, and the boy who resists the temptation deserves great credit, say the leaders.

May Make Arrangements.

The question of public swimming holes along the Santiago has been discussed by William Bathgate of Villa Park, a director of the Serrano Water company. He said that in the future some arrangement might be made for furnishing users of ditch water with pumping plant water, after which the establishment of some real swimmin' holes along the creek would become objectionable.

Recently, a swimming hole in the Santa Ana river bed near Seventeenth street has proven objectionable in more ways than one. First, came a complaint to the sheriff's office that boys in the nude were swimming in the pool in plain view of the road. Now comes word that a number of worried parents are quite convinced that ailments of their sons are to be laid to the water of the Seventeenth street swimmin' hole.

FACTORIES RUSH WORK ON GIANT SUGAR OUTPUT

1,500,000 Sacks of Sweetness To Be Produced Is Estimate

By noon Monday every sugar factory in Orange county that will operate this year, will be under way on the 1921 campaign.

By the middle of November, expectations are, in the neighborhood of 1,500,000 sacks of sugar will have been produced from these four county plants.

Of the "big five," the Santa Ana Sugar company factory, owned by the Holly Sugar company, and the Anaheim Sugar company factory were grinding beets today.

The Huntington Beach mill which was supposed to have begun operations last Monday will probably be the last of the county plants to start.

The Los Alamitos house was rushing final preparations today toward beginning the season's grind tomorrow.

The Anaheim sugar mill opened yesterday morning and was running slowly today. The Anaheim establishment is prepared to shatter all existing county records this year. It is believed, for Superintendent D. Jessurun has announced that the campaign will last approximately 120 days. The average season run is between 90 and 100 days.

One Factory Idle. The Southern California factory on South Main street is not operating this year. Beets that previously went there are now being shipped to the other two Holly plants, the Santa Ana and the Huntington Beach.

Beet men estimate that the tonnage for the county this year will be more than 400,000 tons. The total county acreage of beets is less than it was last year, but the added yield per acre will bring the production for the county to more than was raised last year, it is said.

The Santa Ana sugar plant, located at Dyer, is the only Orange county mill now running at any great speed. Reports by Superintendent Claude Killen show that the daily average being produced there is 3,000 sacks of sugar a day.

40 Tons An Hour. "The mill is cutting an average of 900 tons during the 24 hours, approximately 40 tons an hour."

"I couldn't ask for things to be going better," said Superintendent Killen today. "We are running slowly, but as soon as the beets come in faster we can speed up. Conditions are ideal now and I am entirely satisfied with our progress."

The Huntington Beach mill was held up from its cutting because of the slow delivery of beets from the field to the factory. There were not enough beets coming in to supply both factories so the Santa Ana mill was the only plant to start on scheduled time. Indications today, Killen said, were that the Huntington Beach mill would begin cutting about next Sunday or Monday.

With all of the sugar factories that will operate this year under way by the first of next week, one of Orange county's chief industries will be in full swing. Thousands of acres are under beet cultivation and the total number of men employed by the big companies, in the factories and in the fields will total close to 1500, it is said.

SEEKS $1000 IN SUIT ON PROMISSORY NOTE

H. A. Walker of Fullerton has brought suit against J. E. Fisher, also of Fullerton, to collect $1000 and interest, alleged to be due on a promissory note. Walker claims that interest is due on the original principal of the note, $2,500, from September 4, 1920, to June 1, 1921, and that interest is due on $1000 from June 1 to date of the judgment of the court. He also expects to collect $150 attorney's fees, per a stipulation alleged to have been incorporated in the note. Allen and Lyon are attorneys for Walker.

MISSOURI FETE LURES 35 FROM COUNTY, WORD

Great anticipations attended the final preparations for departure to night of former Missourians for the centennial celebration to be held in their native state.

Thirty-five or more Orange county residents were among those who left for Los Angeles to be in readiness for the start at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning on the Salt Lake special excursion train which will take the scenic route through the Royal Gorge to Denver and thence to Sedalia, Mo., via Kansas City.

At the Missouri picnic held at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, a month ago, the plan to attend as a body of Californians was launched and met with the approval of all present, many signifying their intention at that time of making the trip not so much to visit the old home scenes as individuals, but as the Missouri society of California. As such, and armed with literature and views of their adopted state, it is believed that the advertising effect of such a delegation will be priceless.

Among the Orange county residents who will be of the party, are Mrs. A. D. Anderson, 219 Spurgeon street, Mrs. Sallie Peabody, 1430 North Baker street, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Argus Adams, La Habra; Mrs. Constance Allgeyer and a party of three, Anaheim; Mrs. C. R. Wright and a party of two, Orange; Mrs. C. A. McKelvey and a party of three, Fullerton; R. C. Thurber and a party of five, Brea.

In all there will be more than thirty-five Orange county representatives on the special train, which will be under the direction of Jack Frost, traveling passenger agent of the Salt Lake line.

Members of the party have hailed with delight the momentary departure of the conductor of their party, asserting that a return to their native state in August accompanied by such a personage as Jack Frost would be a most unusual one, and they have no fears of the heat whatever, although some members of the party assert that it may be the means of their having a cool reception.

NOTICE. All members of F. A. U. are cordially invited to attend the picnic supper next Saturday night, August 6th, at Balboa Beach. Every one is asked to meet at Wingood's Drug Store between 5 and 6 o'clock with or without machines. There will be ways provided for all. Bring well-filled baskets and dishes. Coffee will be served.

TO CAN 50,000 CASES PEPPERS AT S. A. PLANT

Work will begin at the California Packing corporation's cannery about August 18 or 20, C. C. Cornett, manager, announced today.

The run will be steady, he said, from the opening date until the close of the season. Green chiles will be first on the tables, and will give way to pimientos the early part of September, according to Cornett. He said:

"R. H. McIntosh, our field inspector, and I have just returned from making a survey of the pepper crop. We find it in good condition, though a little late."

"We expect to run an average year's pack, between 10,000 and 20,000 cases of chili, and approximately 40,000 cases of pimientos, figuring on the basis of 100 cans to the case."

"The run will be steady. Green chiles will keep us busy until the pimientos, which compose the main pack, arrive at the cannery between

RECORD WALNUT HARVEST TO BE HANDLED HERE AT PLANT OF GROWERS

Association Output To Be 200 Tons Larger Than Ever Before, Word

ADD TO HOUSE CAPACITY

Product To Begin Arriving Between September 1 To 15, Is Forecast

Prospects of a walnut crop 200 tons larger this year than that previously handled by the packing house of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association, call for an increase in the capacity of this plant, and work to that end is now under way, supervised by Ransom Reid, chairman of the house committee of the association.

This year's crop grown by members is expected to reach 2600 tons. Reid stated that 2400 tons was the largest heretofore handled by the packing house here. He said:

"Each year calls for certain adjustments or readjustments of our packing house. Extension and remodeling work is a seasonal necessity due to the constant increase in size of crop handled. Independent growers now are few in number."

Each year more of them enter the association and therefore add to the scope as well as the material phases of the association's activities. Probably the crop grown by independent walnut growers in this vicinity will not exceed 250 tons this year.

One of 34 Plants.

"Santa Ana's plant is one of the thirty-four plants included in the membership of the California Walnut Growers' association. It has the only cracking department of any member house outside of Los Angeles or Santa Barbara."

"Each of these plants is self-governing. The aim of all growers is to have the plants in such shape as to get their crop into the Christmas market without hitch. Not all of them use the same manner of attack."

DISTRICT SHIFTS FACED BY SCHOOLS

given to State School Superintendent Will C. Wood.

The matter has also been submitted to Deputy District Attorney Moseley by County School Superintendent Mitchell.

Their opinion is that when a common school district is attached to a city high school district, no union high school district is thus organized. That is, the common school district attached to Santa Ana becomes attached for taxation purposes, and so far as can be determined at this time no step has been outlined whereby the common school district voters have any voice in the selection of the school board.

The present Santa Ana school board will continue in control of the high school.

The Santa Ana school board at present acts in a double capacity. It is the school board for the Santa Ana common school district and also for the Santa Ana high school district. It is elected every four years at the city election of this city.

It is known that so far as the members of the present Santa Ana school board are concerned, there is willingness to have the new districts represented on the board, and the supposition has been that some arrangement under the law would allow the annexed districts in the future to have a part in the selection of members of the school board.

However, under the construction of the law as given by the attorney general's office and the district attorney's office, the board in control of the affairs of Santa Ana high school will continue to be elected by the city of Santa Ana alone. This is a condition that is not likely to be allowed to continue, it is believed.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, Aug. 5.—Mrs. C. F. Pratt received a telegram that her mother is seriously ill at her home in Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Pratt and Thelma left at once for her bedside.

Mrs. Pratt's mother, Mrs. Wilson, has many friends here. She and Mr. Wilson were at the Pratt home here at the time of Mr. Wilson's death.

At that time Mrs. Wilson was a strong, healthy woman, but grief had reduced her to her present illness, it is said.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Vanduff spent Saturday at Riverside and while there visited the Rev. Mr. Borden and family, who were injured in an automobile accident near the Vanduff home a few weeks ago.

The Rev. Mr. Borden is not yet able to use his injured arm, but all are doing quite nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lyons, of Webb Island, are spending a few weeks at the J. J. Graham home.

They arrived Sunday, coming from Aliso, where they spent several days camping with a party from Puente.

Mrs. W. G. Alford was a guest on Sunday at the Robert Hazard home with Mrs. Deacon, of Anaheim, who was visiting with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shafer left on Wednesday for Oakland, where they will remain for the winter, while the former is completing his mechanical course. They have spent several weeks here at the home of Shafer's mother, Mrs. A. H. Moore.

Mrs. Helly Dowdle, of Arizona, and Mrs. Floeste McGirk, of Holland Island, Cal., who are visiting here, spent several days the first of the week with their sister, Mrs. Eva Beem.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell (Agnes Gothard) spent the last week end at the George Gothard home here.

Miss Ethel Dwyer, who has been attending summer school at the San Diego normal, is due to arrive home Friday of this week, the six weeks' session having been completed.

Three young people from the Spurges Memorial church of Santa Ana, kindly assisted as substitutes in the local Sunday school last Sunday morning and their help was greatly appreciated.

Late word from Mrs. J. J. Woodson is to the effect that she and her party of young ladies who are spending some weeks at Ontario during the fruit season are getting along nicely now. Those from here are Misses Alpha and Debrah, Gilbert, Ora Hill, Frances Chandler, and Mable Lee Woodson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers and daughter, Dollie, and Miss Ruth Hemenway, spent Saturday and Sunday at the beach.

LIFE HAD BECOME A BURDEN TO HIM

"Yes, I feel a boy again," said William Frank, 762 Bush street, Eureka, Cal., in telling of the benefits he had received from Tanlac.

"For three years previous to the time I began taking Tanlac my stomach was in such a bad condition I was miserable all the time. My trouble began with indigestion and grew rapidly worse and every hour of the day I was in pain. Headaches ran me almost frantic.

"My appetite was poor and what little I forced myself to eat seemed to do me more harm than good. It would sour and gas that formed on my stomach caused a puffed-up feeling, almost choked me and made my heart flutter.

"My back over my kidneys hurt, and often a pain would grip me till I went nearly double. Then rheumatism kept me on my back for three months and the agony I suffered made life a burden to me.

"I concluded to give Tanlac a trial and you can imagine how glad I was when I realized I was getting better. I have taken four bottles and now my stomach does not give me any more trouble. The puffed-up feeling is gone, no more headaches, no more hurting over my kidneys, no more rheumatism. I am a well man now, and I eat, sleep and enjoy life as if I had never been sick a day."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by The Rowley Drug Co.

Brisk Sales Mark First Day of Women's Campaign

LA HABRA, Aug. 5.—The sale of lots in the La Habra Park Square by the Woman's club went off with a bang when five were sold in as many hours yesterday.

Ray Frantz, president of the Chamber of Commerce, bought two for a home site. Several others are negotiating for desirable locations, and the interest is keen both here and in the surrounding towns.

Nothing like this has been undertaken by a body of women before, it is said, and it stands to reason the townspeople say that the La Habra women will accomplish their undertaking with glory to themselves as many of the big problems of life are solved by determined women.

Grading is under way and just as fast as the work can be done the curbs, sidewalks and other needed improvements will be made. Putting the park in shape will be one of the first considerations of the club.

The women here are elated at this mode of making progress in their long-cherished plan for a club-house.

TALBERT

TALBERT, Aug. 5.—A number of changes occurred the first of the week among local residents who occupy S. E. Talbert's houses, the men of the family being in S. E. Talbert's employ.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Presson and family, who have been here for some time, moved to Orange, at which place they formerly lived.

The house vacated by them was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Tyler. The Tylers are Arizona people. Tyler has been employed here for four weeks and his wife arrived last week.

On Tuesday T. A. Stuart and family, who are late arrivals here, moved to Delhi where Stuart is employed and his brother, F. A. Stuart, who is blacksmith at Sam Talbert's shop, removed his family to the house where his brother has been living.

The same day, John Corcoran and family moved to the Stuart house. The Corcorans are former residents here, having left Talbert for Fresno but a few months ago. They returned to Santa Ana a week ago and visited Corcoran's parents a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler, Lucille and Harold Giesler and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Giesler and family returned Monday from a pleasant camping trip to Wheeler Hot Springs.

Three young people from the Spurges Memorial church of Santa Ana, kindly assisted as substitutes in the local Sunday school last Sunday morning and their help was greatly appreciated.

Late word from Mrs. J. J. Woodson is to the effect that she and her party of young ladies who are spending some weeks at Ontario during the fruit season are getting along nicely now. Those from here are Misses Alpha and Debrah, Gilbert, Ora Hill, Frances Chandler, and Mable Lee Woodson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers and daughter, Dollie, and Miss Ruth Hemenway, spent Saturday and Sunday at the beach.

Mrs. Grafton and family and Ester Jamison, of Panlario, called at the home of Mrs. W. D. Baker Sunday.

LIFE HAD BECOME A BURDEN TO HIM

"Yes, I feel a boy again," said William Frank, 762 Bush street, Eureka, Cal., in telling of the benefits he had received from Tanlac.

"For three years previous to the time I began taking Tanlac my stomach was in such a bad condition I was miserable all the time. My trouble began with indigestion and grew rapidly worse and every hour of the day I was in pain. Headaches ran me almost frantic.

"My appetite was poor and what little I forced myself to eat seemed to do me more harm than good. It would sour and gas that formed on my stomach caused a puffed-up feeling, almost choked me and made my heart flutter.

"My back over my kidneys hurt, and often a pain would grip me till I went nearly double. Then rheumatism kept me on my back for three months and the agony I suffered made life a burden to me.

"I concluded to give Tanlac a trial and you can imagine how glad I was when I realized I was getting better. I have taken four bottles and now my stomach does not give me any more trouble. The puffed-up feeling is gone, no more headaches, no more hurting over my kidneys, no more rheumatism. I am a well man now, and I eat, sleep and enjoy life as if I had never been sick a day."

LAWYERS REVEAL SURPRISE WILL OF CARUSO

United Press Leased Wire
NAPLES, Aug. 5.—Another new Caruso will was discovered today.

The existence of the last instrument was revealed when the late singer's lawyers at Florence wired the executor that Caruso drew his last will there only ten days ago.

Caruso instructed him, the lawyer said, not to reveal the will until three days after death.

Caruso it became known, drew up numerous wills during his life, rarely setting out on an extensive trip without providing for the disposal of his constantly increasing wealth. His practice was said to be to tear up previous wills when he had drafted a new one.

The will previously accepted as the last was drawn at Sorrento, shortly after Caruso returned from America. Another was known to be in existence in New York.

Relatives believed there was a possibility that still others would be found. The terms of the Florence will were not divulged.

BIG CARNIVAL IS PLANNED AT BALBOA

Plans for the first annual Balboa carnival, which those interested believe will rival the Pasadena Carnival of Roses in a few years, are under way at the beach resort. The carnival, which will have the feature of an illuminated evening parade on the water, is set for August 20 and 21.

The Balboa Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the affair, has placed Joseph A. Beek, harbor master at the beach, in charge of all plans.

Decorated floats, illuminated boats and other features are planned for the water carnival. Swimming races, yachting races, diving exhibitions and other features will add enjoyment to the carnival, in which it is hoped outside communities will participate.

The dates, August 20 and 21, were primarily agreed on because on those days there is a high tide and no moon to spoil the effect of the electrical displays.

THEDA BUYS FARM
HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 5.—Theda Bara, movie star, while honeymooning in Evangeline land with her husband, R. J. Braham, induced him to purchase 1000 acres fronting on Annapolis basin. They are coming back next year to build a house, and will probably spend some time in it each year, it is said. A yield of about 100 barrels of apples will probably be realized this season from their farm.

HARBOR ENTRANCE TO BE COMPLETED INSIDE THREE MONTHS, WORD

The entrance to Newport harbor will be completed within three months, and vessels drawing up to 20 feet of water may then enter the port in safety at high tide, according to reports on file with the county harbor commission today. Within two months, it is announced, Contractor W. M. Ledbetter will have completed his extension to the jetty, making it 2100 feet long, and the dredging will require probably a month longer. The dredge is now working at the entrance and will gradually work outward, finishing its work after the danger from summer swells is past.

At the beginning of this month, $181,181.67 remained in the county's $500,000 harbor bond fund to complete the development work, according to the monthly report of the harbor commission.

WOMEN SWIMMERS IN RACE AUGUST 14

Six women swimming stars, all of them champions or near champions, have been matched to swim in competition around the pier at Huntington Beach Sunday, August 14, according to word from there today.

Thelma Darby, Thelma Finn and Bobbie Middemas, all record holders, and Helen Vernon, Clarita Flunberger and Thelma Hall will be at the starting line, it is understood.

The winner of the race will be presented with a gold medal. The competition will be run under the Amateur Athletic union rules. Speed contests in the plunge will precede the race in the surf, it is said.

The races are to be under the auspices of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce which is planning to take care of a large crowd a week from Sunday, it is said.

ANTI-TAGGING PLEA IS NEARLY READY

That their petition to City Marshal J. A. Porter of Newport, asking that more leniency be shown violators of existing traffic ordinances at Balboa, would be finished today and sent to Porter tomorrow, was the hope expressed today by members of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce. The petition is now in circulation among the taxpayers of the little beach resort and those in charge of its circulation feel that it should be presented to Porter tomorrow to prevent another Sunday of what they charge is "ruthless tagging of visiting machines."

L. L. Garrigues, president of the chamber, today refused to announce for publication the nature of the petition.

"It would not be fair," he said, "to publish it before it is presented to Mr. Porter. We want to act above board in this matter. We hope that Mr. Porter will act with us in this matter."

EVENING SALUTATION

"What life has taken out of us
Is naught; be glad to give.
For think of what it's brought to us
To show us how to live."

DIVERSITY OF CROPS

The plight of the South, with its cheapened cotton crop and its menace of famine and disease, is a striking object lesson which ought to be taken to heart by other sections tending to over-specialization in crops.

To be sure, other sections usually raise foodstuffs for their staples, and a farmer with abundance of food can always manage to live, whether he sells his crop or not, by eating it and eating the animals it is fed to. But there is danger anywhere, to sections and communities in thus ignoring a good old American rule and putting all their eggs into one basket.

The principle applies also to business communities and individuals. A one-industry town thrives for a few years and then goes dead when the market for its product falls off.

Orange county is not a one-product county. It has gained fame as a county of diversified products, and the older the county grows the more thankful are its citizens that it is not a one-product county. With oranges, lemons, beans, sugar beets, grain, hay, walnuts and many other crops and products, the county as a whole is never heavily hit by the failure of one or two markets. The diversity of crops is one of the most stable factors in making this county the wonderful county that it is.

The Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph has the right idea. "Set all the thermometers back 10 degrees." Back East temperature-saving's more important than daylight-saving.

THE HEALTHFUL COUNTRY

The newly-elected president of the American Medical Association attempts to explode the theory that the country is a more healthful place to bring up children than the city. He says that living conditions in the city are more sanitary, medical attention is more prompt, and there are greater medical facilities—hospitals, dispensaries, etc. He therefore advises parents, "Don't send your children to the country if you want them to be healthy."

It has been generally recognized in recent years that many country children suffer from many handicaps which counteract the benefits of the fresh air and outdoor life which have long been credited with being their special heritage. In many Eastern rural communities the simplest health rules are unknown and unobserved; children are improperly fed, and slight ailments which could be easily cured at the start are allowed to grow into serious physical troubles.

All of this, however, proves nothing against the country as a potentially healthful place for children. It does prove that the rural districts have been sadly neglected, that health education, modern sanitation and scientific methods of combatting sickness have been considered the special needs of the city, to the detriment of similar progress in the country.

But the doctrine of pure water supply, of wholesome recreation, of simple diet for growing boys and girls, of screening against flies and mosquitoes, of preventive medicine and of personal hygiene are penetrating the rural communities of the country surely, even if slowly. Given the same advantages—mechanical and educational—for healthful growth in the country as are now found in all progressive cities, the country promptly regains its old position of glory. Woods and fields and running streams, the quiet and peace of nature, have no rivals in the noise and crowding of the cities with their paved streets, cramped quarters and smoky atmosphere.

Too, in discussing this subject one should define just what he means by "the country." Here in California rural communities are in the control of intelligent city and school authorities, and that same high degree of intelligence is to be found in all of the country districts of this country. When one stops to consider the fact that Orange county is virtually covered by telephones—why, there's a telephone on the very top of Old Saddleback—by electric power and light lines, that a large proportion of the country is served with natural gas, that with automobiles and paved roads the family in the country for miles around Santa Ana really live closer to the center of Santa Ana than do the strap-hanging population of Los Angeles to the center of Los Angeles, it is not likely that this county can be classed as what some easterners think of as "the country." We have all the advantages of country life, however—fresh air, scenery, fresh fruits and other products—and we have no desire to be any closer than we are to a big city. We will bank on it, the rural residents of this country are as healthy a lot as are to be found in the world, and the newly-elected president of the American Medical Association can truthfully be told, "Bring your children to Orange county if you want them to be healthy."

The person who does only one thing, in work or play or rest, tends to poverty of some sort. He fails to broaden his fortune and enrich his life. Diversity's the word.

WHY BUY REAL ESTATE?

"Why buy real estate?"

The San Bernardino Sun has answered the question. The instance cited by The Sun is one that could be duplicated on every corner in Santa Ana.

Here is what The Sun has to say:

"Does it pay to buy real estate—in the right place? An item in The Sun's 20 years ago column Tuesday morning furnished one answer to the question.

"Twenty years ago the late J. J. Hanford bought from the heirs of the Kurtz estate the southeast corner of Fourth and E street, 99x98 feet, and paid for it—what do you think? The price accepted by the court and not overbid by any other purchaser was $3,750.

"We have not looked up the assessment on the property, but in the recent negotiations looking toward a modern business block on that corner it has been figured at something like $40,000 for this portion of the site. The present owner paid something like $23,000 several years ago. It has changed hands several times, always at advancing prices, and but for the delay on the part of property owners in improving around that particular neighborhood, which would almost certainly have made it an important business center, it would have a valuation even above the highest figure named—all built on a valuation of $3,750 when it was sold by the Kurtz heirs twenty years ago.

"Now suppose $3,750 had been deposited in the savings bank and had drawn 4 per cent interest compounded for the score of years: the interest tables show that it would now be worth $8,212.50. Even had the money been loaned at the high rate of 8 per cent and compounded without the loss of a penny or a day's interest, the total amount would now be $12,937.50. This can be compared with the present valuation of the land, about $40,000, less something for taxes, although in recent years it has paid an income that would much more than cover taxes—possibly cover the taxes for the entire period.

"Buy real estate—well located. If it is well located, it will never be worth less, in California it will always be worth more and more and more, and it will be neither stolen nor destroyed. There is no other such substantial basis for savings, or for a competence, or for a fortune, even if one goes in debt for it originally. And there are people so constituted that they do not begin to save until they go in debt. Within reason, one can always afford to get into debt if by so doing he becomes the owner of a good piece of land, large or small."

Look To The Future

Riverside Press

The writer had occasion to drive to Huntington Beach a few days ago and was interested to note that the highway from Santa Ana to the oil metropolis by way of Bolsa has been largely reconstructed within the last few months. For several miles the pavement was torn up entirely and thrown away and new pavement laid. On the other road to Huntington Beach, by way of Taibert, similar reconstruction work has been done, on nearly as extensive a scale. The Orange county system of highways was built about ten years ago and yet it has been found necessary to largely rebuild these two important units. It is true moreover, that it was generally agreed when the Orange county roads were built under the county bond issue that the work was substantially and efficiently done.

Why is this instance cited? Simply to give emphasis to the fact that when it comes to criticism of highway construction, there is not a city or a county in the state where permanent roads have been built on a large scale that is not just as open to criticism as is the state highway commission for its work on the California state system. Mistakes in construction methods have been made but they were natural and almost inevitable in the light of the rapid development of the use of automobiles and busses and trucks.

Just a few days ago The Press carried an item in its "Twenty Years Ago" column that recalled the fact that on July 31, 1901—only twenty years ago—two automobiles made the trip from Los Angeles to Riverside in the "fast" time of five and a half hours. Most drivers are ashamed to admit now that they take as much as two hours to make the trip. Twenty years ago the automobile was just coming into general use and it was still more or less of a curiosity, and ten years ago we had no conception of the number of cars that would travel our highways, of their weight and speed, and of the wear and tear from great busses and from freight trucks that carry a carload of stuff. Of course we made mistakes and they were intensified by the insistent demand of the people for as much mileage as possible.

There is no country in the state that has a better record than Riverside in the matter of low cost and efficient construction, on the highways built under the county bond issue. And yet there are communities in this county that at times were in a mood almost to mob the highway commission.

Undoubtedly the state has made mistakes in its highway program and those mistakes should not be perpetuated. The claim is made that the work now being done is under new specifications that have been formulated to meet the changed conditions of travel; and unless it can be shown that this is not true, the automobile clubs had better drop their campaign of abuse and get in and boost for a constructive program for the future.

The Oregon state system was started some time later than that of California but at many points in that state, the roads are now being widened and thickened—just the sort of supplementary work that is being done in California. That is somewhat wasteful, there is no doubt of that, but specifications that would have been all right in 1901 or 1911 even are now out of date.

The people of the state are much more interested in what is going to be done in the future than in what has been done in the past in highway work; and if the mistakes of the past are not being perpetuated, the best thing to do is to "forget it" and go forward in the light of present day conditions. Even if we do the best we can now, it may turn out in ten years that we shall look back and see that we made mistakes.

Irrepressible Spirit

Pasadena Star-News

The typical American is a confirmed optimist. No matter how badly things may be going, he seems to find a silver lining. This typical American feels quite sure that things will be better by and by. Backing his faith with his works, he usually sets to with a will and does all he can to hasten the coming of better times and more favorable conditions.

When disaster befalls, the typical American shows his grit. He is dauntless, let fire, or flood, or earthquake or storm do his worst. The great painter who would essay to limn the typical American in his courage amid disaster would show an erect figure, undismayed, not stopping to mourn over the ruins of his handiwork, laid low by the conflagration, the torrent or the tornado, but with sleeves rolled up, busily engaged in clearing the debris for reconstruction and rehabilitation.

The Parting of the Ways

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

A PRAYER

You—Somebody Who Knows—know how thankful that I am as other men, so that I may understand them better. How alike in mistakes made, and good things done.

How beautiful that I can see the same sunset that you have painted for all and wonder while the storm is on, trying to understand its fury as it flashes its teeth to the earth.

What mystery back of all created loveliness. What a frail human being I am. How frail everything is. How weak the strongest in life. How fascinating are the beaten things of the earth.

It is understanding that I would pray for most. And then I would take it and give it away!

I would not walk in pride, but in simple faith—believing. I want to be kind. I am a pupil. Please teach me aright. Let me go out into the big world each day not knowing too much—but enough.

Help me not to waste. Give me a few friends—"but those without capitulation." Make me a pal to the discouraged and a sort of silent leader to those who climb, be they separated ever so far.

Explain to me why you put such beautifully colored flowers in the ground, and why you made the trees so great, and why you put the thorns on the stems of roses. And tell me why the birds never had to take any lessons in singing—just sing their same sweet songs year in and year out. Tell me why that squirrel stood up and walked so near to me today when I whistled to him. He seemed to understand something.

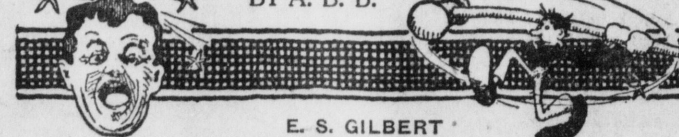

When I am most tired, I feel like doing most. I don't understand it. They told me when I was a boy that your name was God. I don't think it matters much what your name is, though, so long as I am able to translate a little of all that you are each day. I would like to do that. I see you in so many people and in so many things. That's the reason I have for believing in you. And I think that that is enough, don't you?

I always feel best when I give most. So please give me a great deal to give.

There are other things, God—but you fill them in, if you will. And bring them all to pass at the best time. That is all.

The Velvet Hammer

BY A. B. B.

The beauty of the ladies is, we soberly confess, considerably aided and augmented by their dress. That man improves on Nature is a plain and patent fact, attested to by evidence imposing and exact; and nowhere do his efforts more distinctively succeed than in the decorations which the lovely ladies need.

Our thanks are due to Gilbert for the worthy work he does, in selling daisies in our town theaters, fluff and fuzz. He loves his work, which is, it seems, a sweet and gentle snap, for he must be, as you'll agree, a very lucky chap who paints the lily and improves on Nature's masterpiece. It's not a job to make you sob and clamor for release.

He likes to drive amid the scenes which beckon from the hills, and has to pay for tubes and tires a jolly stack of bills. He bumps the golf ball round the links with swats of class and length and aids his well developed eye with arms of speed and strength. But better than all sports which lead to highways, links or woods, he likes to tell them "Howdydo" and sell the good dry goods.

EVOCATION

Oh be not satisfied, My Soul,
With petty victories,
With what the world calls triumph!
Let that alone suffice Thee
Which is bridled in The Substance
Of Eternal Verity!
Thy task is not another's,
Nor is another's Thine,
In spirit Thou canst not a lender,
Or a borrower be.
Hold Thou Thy Place.
And let The Son of Love
Shine through Thy Face!
Let never any thought of hate
Disturb Thee.
Give Thou Thy Gift,
And give it joyfully,
And Youth and Spring
Shall lengthen to Eternity.

NOTHING TO HIM

"This is fine growing weather," remarked the farmer cheerfully.

"What's that to me?" growled the village pessimist. "I've got my growth."—From the Boston Transcript.

WHAT HE HAD THOUGHT
Hank drew a large, pink apple from his side coat pocket and prepared to attack it, when another of the village store loafers reached over and took the apple, saying:

"What kind o' apple is that, Hank—Roman Beauty?" Then, as he munched, he said, "No, it ain't."

Another loafer reached for the apple, saying: "Roman Beauty me eye! Don't you know a Smith's Cider when you see it? Lemme taste 'er. . . . No, 'tain't that!"

Still another grimy paw reached and took the fruit, deploring:

"You fellers acts like ye ain't seen no apples before! That hain't no Smith's Cider—it's a Winesap."

"Nah, 'tain't," as he took the last bite of it. "What was that apple, Hank?"

"I thought," said Hank, sadly, "that apple 'twas my lunch."

NOT EFFUSIVE

An undemonstrative hotel keeper in Maine took good care of a New York guest one summer that said N. Y. G. reported him favorably to a friend. The friend, somewhat effeminate in his manner, went to the Maine man's establishment and said:

"I've been recommended by my friend, Mr. Smith, to come here. He said your place was so nice."

"All right," said the landlord. "I guess I can take care of you."

"Yes, Mr. Smith—friend of mine, New York, spoke so highly of you."

"Yep, I can give you a good room, I reckon."

"You see, Mr. —"

"Yes, yes," said the teary host. "I heard ye, you're a friend of Mr. Smith, he told ye about me, and you've come. What dye want me to do—kiss ye?"

Strong Boys are Brightest

Detroit News

That comforting tradition which held that the lean, undersized, big-goggled pupil in the schools was compensated for his physical lack by being "the bright scholar," has been shattered by an investigation of the board of education, covering 84,000 children. This investigation shows that the physically robust boy stands at the head of his class in school and far in advance of the weak youngster of similar age.

In arriving at this conclusion what was called the co-efficient of development was first found. This was the relation between the child's height and weight for his age. It was then found that the bigger and better developed the child the farther along he was in his school work.

Undeveloped Lag
Taking the grade for a child of normal weight and height for his age at 100, it was found that if a child is two and a half years ahead of his age group in school he is also 10.2 per cent higher and heavier than the ordinary child of his age. In the same way it was found that a child 9.5 per cent under weight and height for his age is four years behind in school.

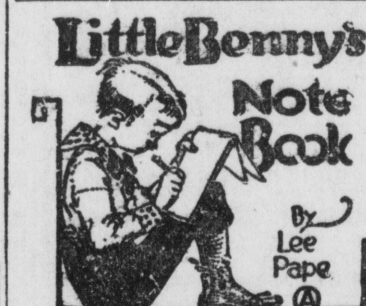

These figures held true for the entire 84,000 children examined, though the difference among girls was less than among boys. But boys or girls, the accelerated children—those heavier and taller than usual—are ahead in school, while the retarded children—those under-developed—are behind.

However, there are many factors—nationality and hereditary characteristics—which in different individuals and groups tend to modify these conclusions, the investigation showed. Because of the varying characteristics of the different nationalities the height-weight ratio has to be considered in connection with the group to which the child belongs.

Children Classified
Of the 84,000 children examined 34,969 were classed as United States white; 3194 United States negro; 8903 were Anglo-Saxon; 6077 Teutonic; 5590 Latin; 6572 Russian (Jewish), and 10,362 miscellaneous.

The study revealed that the United States whites follow closely the average for the city in weight, but are slightly above it in height. The Anglo-Saxon children are average in height, but slightly below the average for the city in weight. The Teutonic children agree with the city average in height, but depart slightly in weight, being generally lower. The Latin children show a large variation in both height and weight, being below average in both. The Russian children are shorter than the average, but are practically the average weight.

The study revealed that there are about as many children above the average as below the average. The deviation from the normal is greater among girls than among boys, particularly during the adolescent period. Those 10 per cent above and 10 per cent below were considered normal.

Bear Stories for Bedtime

CHAPTER 106

THE FORD DRIVER'S TROUBLES AREN'T OVER
By Harvey Elliott

Billy Bear was just joking when he told Peter Rabbit that he didn't think the Ford man would be back unless he should meet Daddy Bear. He didn't suppose it was likely that he would run across Father Bear, although the man was running in the direction of the Bear home. But after all it didn't prove to be any joke—at least not for the Ford man.

It happened that afternoon that Buster Bear went out for a stroll, too. He went in the direction in which Billy had started earlier in the day. He wondered what mischief Billy was up to next. He thought it would be fun to slip up on Billy and surprise him. Then he loved Billy so much that he just wanted to be with him.

Well, sir, Father Bear was strolling through the woods at the time the Ford man was chasing Billy Bear. He kept on coming while Billy was chasing the Ford man. He wasn't so very far away when Peter Rabbit nearly got the daylight's kicked out of him.

The Ford man ran over right in the direction of Father Bear. He was thinking of just one thing. This thing was, "How can I get away from that Bear that chased me up a tree?" Now, Father Bear had sat down against a tree to rest. He was half way asleep, wondering where Billy was.

He was roused up by a "crack! smash!" among the twigs and leaves. Just as he looked up to this he bumped right into him and rolled over his back to the ground on the other side.

What do you reckon it was? Well, sir, you will have to laugh when I tell you that that Ford driver as he was running away turned his head around to see if Billy Bear was coming and when he wasn't looking where he was going he smashed right into Father Bear.

The Ford driver didn't know what it was he had hit, and Father Bear didn't have the least idea what it was that had hit him. Both of them were so soft that it didn't hurt either one of them. The Ford man knew it was something bigger than Peter Rabbit.

As the Ford driver picked himself up he found himself looking right into the face of Buster Bear. It was a wonder he didn't die of fright. But he didn't. However, he did let out a yell of terror.

Well, Buster Bear saw then that he was looking into the face of a man. He felt awfully queer. In fact, he was a bit scared. Then when the Ford man let out that yell, Buster thought it was time for him to let out something, too.

"Gr-r-r-r!" he roared.

Then the Ford driver ran some more. He started back in the direction from which he came. He had forgotten about Billy Bear. He began to think that the woods must be full of wild Bears. Dear, dear, what could a poor man do with Bears on every side of him!

Father Bear was about to run away, too, but when he saw the way that the Ford driver was running he thought there wasn't any use of both of them running at the same time. He said:

"WHY BE AFRAID OF THE FELLOW THAT IS AFRAID OF YOU?"
